

FIVE CENTS

EXTRADITION LAWS.

VEGETA BETWEEN BRITAIN AND THE U. S.
PUBLISHED.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28. The text of the new extradition treaty between Britain and the United States is published. Sir John Thompson, speaking for the Government, says he regards it as a satisfactory solution of a long vexed problem, which will probably be accepted by the United States Senate. The treaty does not differ materially from that negotiated by Secretary Bayard, except that the claims relating to political offences are eliminated. The treaty adds a large number of crimes as those included in the treaty of 1842. The Dominion Government is prepared to make payment for ratification.

Winnipeg, Jan. 28. The new extradition treaty with Great Britain, long expected by Secretary Bayard, and now pending in the Senate, is given out, together with the letter of the Secretary of State, transmitting the treaty to the President, and the letter of the President transmitting the treaty to the Senate. The treaty will differ radically from the one negotiated by Secretary Bayard, in that it does not exclude, as the former did, the extradition of political offenders, but it adds a large list of crimes to the one which, under the treaty of 1842, are declared to be extraditable. There is no difficulty, it is believed, in negotiating the present treaty, both parties being equally desirous to obtain the same results of their endeavor and other officials. The letter of Mr. Blaine explains each of the provisions of the treaty in an exhaustive manner. The provisions made are applicable to the following additional crimes:

First—Murdering.

Second—Counterfeiting or altering money, interfering or being in circulation counterfeit or altered money.

Third—Embezzlement, larceny, obtaining money by false pretenses, receiving money or other property, knowing the same to be embezzled, stolen or fraudulently obtained.

Fourth—Fraud made criminal by the laws of both countries.

Fifth—Perjury or subornation of perjury.

Sixth—Rape, abduction, child-stealing, kidnapping.

Seventh—Burglary, house-breaking or shop-breaking.

Eighth—Pilferage.

Ninth—Revolving or conspiracy to revolt on high seas, wrongfully sink or destroy a vessel at sea or attempting to do so; assault on board a ship on the high seas.

Tenth—Crimes and offenses against the laws of both countries for the suppression of slavery or slave trade.

BRAZILIAN AFFAIRS.

THE NEW EDITION OF A DRUNKEN BOB. NEW YORK, Jan. 28. Agent Lecklin, of the United States, has received a letter from the company of Rio de Janeiro that the report of the riot in that city had been greatly exaggerated. Instead of twenty-nine persons killed, there were nine and the whole affair arose out of a drunken brawl. Under date of Dec. 10, the Rio agent reports that the government was satisfied to have withdrawn its support from the money market, no longer requiring money, and that the rate of exchange had consequently fallen as low as twenty-four pence.

MINUS THE MAIL.

WITH COAST STEAMERS WILL NOT CAREY. (LIVE) SAME LETTERS AT REDUCED RATES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28. The United States mail for the north, which, on account of the railway block, has accumulated here in great numbers, was not taken by the steamship Santa Rosa, which sailed for Portland yesterday. It seems that the steamer Columbia, which sailed last week, was paid by the United States Government and is now being chartered by the Santa Rosa company to carry the mail.

The British Government, the company pays this American line $100 per mail bag from this port to Victoria, and when the home government cut the rate to 60 cents they declined. From a commercial standpoint the situation is serious, as two weeks ago for the north returns here.

THE LADIES HOME JOURNAL.

Filled with the best things for a woman's spirit and pleasure, the February Ladies Home Journal is full of inspiration as the old-fashioned magazine for the home.

There is a practical ring about everything in the pages of this monthly that at once inspires confidence. Every article shows a careful thought as to what were the only feature in the magazine. Nothing is said but what is the most important and most useful to the woman.

Every woman is understood, for every need is met, and there is not a girl or woman who has not something of a gem in her heart.

The Ladies Home Journal is the most interesting, instructive, and inspiring magazine what is, truthfully, claimed for it, a perfect encyclopedia of woman's knowledge in each number, and it may add, for only one dollar a year. Published at 433 4th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
